Discussion Questions:

- 1) Which of the three novellas did you enjoy the most? Why?

- 2) Although all three novellas are considered a cozy, they do have distinct stylistic elements. Which of these styles is the most readable... the most humorous... the most inviting... the most interesting?

- 3) Were you familiar with any of these authors?

- 4) Will read more from any of these authors?

- 5) Which elements of mystery were developed effectively in these stories? Which were underdeveloped or missing entirely?

- 6) Did the seasonal setting add to or distract from the mystery in each story?
